

WOMAN CONVICTED ON MANSLAUGHTER COUNT

Today

JOSIE MANSFIELD GOES, TOO
A NEW PLANET SWIMS IN A MILLIONAIRE BABY
BOTH HAVE EXCUSES

THE FRENCH are saying: "Tout passe, tout casse, tout lasse." "Everything passes, everything breaks, everything becomes weary-some."

Josie Mansfield was buried yesterday in the cemetery of Mont Parnasse, Paris. In 1870, in her home, she was called "the most beautiful woman in New York," although her character "left something to be desired." Jim Fisk, Wall street gambler, friend of Bill Tweed, admired Josie Mansfield. Ed Stokes, who ran the Hoffman house, with the large picture of undressed ladies by Bouguereau in the bar room, after he came out of jail, shot Fisk dead in the Grand hotel on Broadway. Visitors, for years, were shown the bullet marks on the marble staircase. Fisk died, Stokes died, the Grand hotel was torn down, Bouguereau's "Diana in the Bath," went somewhere else. Josie Mansfield lived on. Now she is dead and buried.

Tout passe, tout casse, tout lasse.

PROF. PICKERING, whose playthings are the nebulae, stars and planets, has found an interesting "new" object in space. No human eye has seen it, but its existence, size and weight are proved by its effect on the planet Uranus.

The new heavenly giant, called "planet P," has a diameter of 44,000 miles, whereas our earth is only 8,000 miles through. Its distance from the sun varies from five to nine billion miles. That variation is due to the shape of the ellipse in which it travels, something like the shape of an egg.

"Planet P" is 95 times as far from the sun as we are, and whereas we go around the sun once in 365 days, "Planet P" requires 666 of our years for one of its years. If you reached three score and ten on that planet you would be 45,920 years old.

Perhaps we shall go there some day, while traveling from one to another of the "main" planets, and live as long as that.

MITCHELL REYNOLDS, 3rd, fifteen months old, inherits from his great grandmother, Mrs. Sarg, $1,758,415. When he gets it, with interest, at 21, he will have about $3,500,000.

The foolish say "lucky baby." That depends on what he inherited, in the brain at birth, and on his education.

How would you prepare a young baby to receive three and a half millions at the age of 21, in such a way as to prevent his being made a fool by money and by sycophants?

RUSSIA HAS BEEN sending troops close to the Chinese territory in which Japan is making herself at home. Now Japan sends troops to "The area of the Russians in northern Manchuria."

Japan wishes "to protect her railway workers," and Russia has an excuse as good. Ordinarily this would sound like a war. But you can't tell what the strange Bolshevik will do. When you expect them to shoot they may begin a Russian dance with boots on, and embrace their brothers, the Japanese.

HOOVER BRANDS NAVY LEAGUE'S CLAIMS UNTRUE

Will Expect Corrections
And Apology from William H. Gardiner

PUBLIC REFEREE IN OPEN BATTLE

President's Fighting Temper Is Aroused By Accusations

BY JOHN F. CHESTER,
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Fighting temper aroused, President Hoover intends to appoint the public as referee for an open bout with a navy league critical of his plans to shrink the naval budget.

With spectacular suddenness the President last night issued a formal defy, declaring the claims of William H. Gardiner, president of the navy league to be "untruths and distortions of fact." The day before, he, himself, had been accused by Gardiner of "abysmal ignorance" and an effort to "starve" the navy.

Even as Mr. Hoover was answering this attack, his administration's affirmative reply to a league of nations proposal for a one-year naval building truce participated in by 52 nations was enroute to Geneva.

Will Name Committee

The President's statement said he would appoint a committee, upon which would be members of the navy league, to make an inquiry into the merits of the attack upon him and his policies.

"Upon its completion," he said, "I shall expect Mr. Gardiner to make a public correction of his mis-statement and an apology therefore."

Apparently unperturbed by the turn of events, however, Gardiner showed no inclination to apologize.
He was "surprised," he said, that Mr. Hoover would appoint a commission of his own rather than sponsor a congressional investigation.

PRO-FILM MOVE LOSES IN COURT

Injunction To Prevent
E. Liverpool Vote
Is Denied

LISBON, Oct. 30.—A petition requesting a temporary order restraining the county board of election, an initiated ordinance to prevent showing of Sunday theater entertainment, was denied today by Judge Benner R. Jones, Jackson.

Judge Jones, presiding in courtroom No. 2 ruled that the ordinance as filed with the election board was true and correct and stated that requirements of state statutes had been met by the Sunday Sabbath Observance association.

Quiting alleged irregularities in drafting of the ordinance and later procedures, the petition requesting the temporary order was filed in the court by Paul Hune, East Liverpool confectioner. The petition was dismissed by the court with costs being assessed against the plaintiff.

Quakers, Bengals In Battle for Title

Lineup, Weights for Title Tilt

Here's the way Salem and Wellsville High teams will lineup for tonight's championship battle at Reilly stadium:

Salem	Weight	Pos.	Weight	Wellsville
P. Sidinger	152	Left End	168	Gibbas
Raymond	190	Left Tackle	158	Long
Crowl	156	Left Guard	181	Snediker
Corso	157	Center	197	Roberts
Whitcomb	162	Right Guard	209	Luckino
Fisher	152	Right Tackle	168	Lindsay
Erwin Beck	150	Right End	178	Daugherty
Ed. Beck	162	Quarter	145	McLean
Carpenter	167	Left Half	167	Petrella
Keyes	160	Right Half	173	Weekley
French	170	Fullback	181	Kesler

Officials—Eddie Howell (Sebring); Henry Wagner (Warren); Barrett (Sebring).

Champion meets challenger tonight at Reilly stadium when the Salem High football team, for five consecutive years winner of Colum-biana county gridiron laurels, battles a powerful and heavy Wellsville High aggregation in a contest that is expected to determine the 1931 title-holder.

Mardi Gras Climax

The battle will climax the annual

Two varsity performers will be missing from the lineups of both eleven when the teams line up for the opening kick-off under the stadium's floodlight system at 8:15.
Wayne Sidinger and Adam Pukalski, Salem guards, will be replaced by Crowl and Whitcomb, while in the Wellsville roster, Halback Pul-ton, reported ineligible, will give way to McLean with Snediker taking the place of Mellott, injured linebacker.

Varsity Men Out.

The invading Tigers will present one of the district's most powerful lines, one that averages 179 pounds from end to end and will outweigh the Salem forward wall almost 20 pounds to a man. Backfields of the two combines, in both weight and experience, rank almost even.

The Bengals expect to flash a strong aerial attack while Salem
will also go to the air and combine passing with a strong end-running offensive with each of the team's backfield stars alternating in ball-carrying responsibilities.

Short passes, Petrella to either
Daugherty or Gibbas, are expected to form Wellsville's greatest offensive threat.

Weekley and Kesler, in the absence of Pulton, will bear the brunt of ball-carrying burdens for Wells-ville. The latter, while in role of substitute back two years ago, when the Red and Black overwhelmed Wellsville, 32-6, scored his team's only touchdown on an 85-yard, return of a kick-off.

The game is expected to start not later than 8:15. A tug-of-war, marking renewal of class rivalry between freshmen and sophomores, will be held between halves.

Air Play Expected

The Bengals expect to flash a strong aerial attack while Salem
will also go to the air and combine passing with a strong end-
running offensive with each of the team's backfield stars alternating
in ball-carrying responsibilities.

Short passes, Petrella to either
Daugherty or Gibbas, are expected
to form Wellsville's greatest offensive threat.

Britain Hails the Victor

After victory at the polls for the National Government Party headed by Premier Ramsay MacDonald, this crowd wildly acclaimed the embattled prime minister at Seaham. The count after the general election showed that the English people are with the MacDonald party, as it was returned to power by a huge majority.

TWO ENTOMBED MINERS SAVED; FOUR ARE DEAD

Rescued Will Survive After Five and a Half Days Underground

(By Associated Press)

MOCANAQUA, PA., Oct. 30.—
Rescue workers shortly after six o'clock this morning brought out, alive, two of the six miners entombled last Saturday by an explosion at the local mine of the West End Coal company. The others were dead.

The Rescued:

Those rescued are John Thomashunis, 40, father of seven children, and Joseph Matzoni, 22. Mine officials said both were in excellent condition considering they had been buried alive for five and a half days. Both will survive the ordeal, physicians said.

The dead: John Molitoris, 35, father of three children; Jacob Tinus, 45, father of four; Henry Ceglarski, 23, single, and Paul Novak, 40, whose wife is in Europe.

A crowd of about 200 were waiting at the mouth of the mine as Thomashunis and Matzoni were brought to an ambulance. Among the crowd was Mrs. Thomashunis.
She was taken to the mine offices where officials assured her that her husband was in good condition.

"When I got the message that he was all right, I felt just as if he had come from the dead," she said.

Two Killed Instantly

From rescue workers it was learned that two of the dead men had been killed instantly by the force of the explosion and that the other two had been victims of after-damp.

Novak, a brakeman, had gone out of the entry to get a car just as the explosion ripped through that part of the shaft. He and Tinus, a laborer who was working nearby, were instantly killed. Molitoris and Ceglarski were uninjured by the blast, but they ventured out too soon after-damp and fell victims to after-damp.

Thomashunis and Matzoni had been entombed about 133 hours.

Grangers Oppose State Bond Issue

Three candidates were given the first and second degrees at a meeting of Goshen grange Thursday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem. One application for membership was received.

A resolution was passed opposing the proposed $7,500,000 state bond

THE HALLOWEEN MOOD

Young America annually does its ingenious best to make Halloween as greatly to be dreaded as the Fourth of July used to be before morning-after hospital lists were reduced from disastrous proportions. An occasion that might be the pleasant, lingering remembrance of an ancient religious festival has been misused grievously. The Halloween mood of the present too often is a mood of licence, asserting itself weeks before the actual Halloween date and snuffed out gradually afterwards by the coming of winter weather.

There is nothing that can be done about it immediately, of course. Private policemen, extra locks, warnings and an occasional shotgun will have to be depended on to protect property from destruction for many years to come, no doubt. It is possible that people never will resent such pranks as window soaping, trip wires, petty thievery and the several dozen minor annoyances, devised through the course of many years, sufficiently even to want to do anything about them. That will depend, largely, on the increase or decrease in Halloween licence.

There is, therefore, a distinct service that mothers and fathers can perform for their communities. Modern observance of Halloween is an occasion that calls for good fun. There are more people who have a good time the night of Oct. 31 without making themselves objectionable by doing damage to property and annoying their communities than there are of the other kind. Is it too much to hope that parents, by warning their children to regard property rights, eventually may take away the Halloween annoyances that abound now?

May the goblins gobble and the spooks sputter for the enjoyment of those who have the same respect for the rights of others on Halloween that they have other days of the year. It will require, and already has required, a vast deal of patience to deal with the others—the young vandals who annually do their best to spoil the occasion.

TROUBLE ON THE RIVER

A common pleas judge in Cincinnati has expressed his opinion of the futility of Ohio's new marriage law, as long as adjoining states apparently solicit the drunken and runaway marriage business. He refers to Kentucky, specifically. Other judges farther up the river feel the same way about West Virginia.

All this was anticipated when the legislature established the five-day notice safeguard about marriage. It was known that Gretna Greens would spring up "across the river," but the law was passed in spite of misgivings concerning this by-product. Common pleas judges, who persist in making their interest appear commercial by referring to the "marriage license business," opposed its passage. They have no right, of course, to balk its operation.

It requires courage to take a first step, Ohio, whose legislators apparently believe that marriage is too important a social institution to be commercialized at the expense of principle, dared to impose a restriction which, if imposed universally, would do a vast deal to discourage runaway and drunken marriages. The restriction is doing no harm to anyone but those who are losing marriage fees and, where it is being enforced properly, is doing considerable good. Is it too much hoping to believe that Ohio's neighbors may follow the example eventually?

Adolf Hitler claims 12,000,000 followers. If only one in five of Germany's 60,000,000 is crazy, after all they have gone through since 1914, Germany's sanity quotient is creditably high—Detroit Free Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—Thoughts while strolling: Pay Mahe has the blackest tan of the year. The tall Luigi Rothchild, who sports a monocle so jauntily. Just what color is Hope Hampton's hair? John Anderson and George Jean Nathan, the critics, could pose for the collar ads.

I always feel suddenly poor when I see a uniformed butler. Earl Bonham in his usual hurry. They say Conrad Nagel was once bald. No one can look so depressingly solemn as Theodore Dreiser. But Jack Wheeler runs him a close race. Bill Guard's blackthorn cane.

Frank Case, a Buffalo, N. Y. boy, who made good in the city. Monta Bell and Gary Cooper walk alike. Sight-seeing char-a-bancs for Chinatown have top-hatted decoys at night. And a movie barker using a megaphone splattered with silver dust. Mrs. Will Hays' peach-blown complexion.

Hurdy gurdies grinding out "Meet the Mrs." already. Laurence Stallings shoots craps for exercise. Cigar store sign: "Come back prosperity. All is forgiven." Motor car beggars now open doors and brusquely demand alms. And slam doors if they don't get it.

And I would, too, if hungry. You'd never recognize Harpo Marx off stage. A Broadway type—hennaed lady in vivid green, cheap jewelry and back-stage talk. And in constant touch with shyster lawyers. Bright-eyed Queenie Smith—the newest Rialto toast.

Whatever became of Charles Purcell? And Paul Frawley? And some other handsome juveniles of a few years ago. Nobody has dreamier eyes than Ruby Keeler. And Gladys Glad remains the season's most beautiful show girl. Norman Anthony, whose crack weekly—started with $500—now sells more than a million.

Daddy Browning eats a plate of celery before each meal. Fulton Oursler is an amateur ventriloquist. Has dummies in his office and practices in leisure moments. The New Yorker with the most intriguing name—Foxhall Keene. Eighth avenue window sign: "Men's dress shirts for a dime during sale only." Quit pushing!

When Mayor Walker was a guest of American newspapermen in Paris he shucked official dignity, sat at the piano and played favorite tunes and otherwise indulged high jinks even to joining lustily in the Arthur Moss version of the old song thusly:

Yeast Side, Wet Side,
All around the town,
Mulrooney's in swimming at Coney,
Brooklyn cops are falling down,
Boys and girls together,
Jean Norris and Mickey O'Rourke,
Sam Hofstadter's getting sarcastic on The Sidewalks of New York.

E. P. A. in the Herald-Tribune: "And saw that Mr. McIntyre said: 'George S. Kauffman just stuck in the 'S' for swank,' which is untrue. S. being not for swank but for Simon, nor do I know why Mr. McIntyre stuck in the extra f in George's sur-name."

Perhaps the obliging Mr. Adams will now tell us how to spell his own name.

They were discussing clowning by paragraphs. My notion of the most hilarious from the New Yorker follows: "Schenectady Flashes Picture to Australia: Gets It Back in One Eighth of a Second—Headline in the Times." The New Yorker commented: "They'll think twice before they do that again."

All over town little Ragged Dicks, of the Horatio Alger period, are showing up with shine boxes to bestow the nickel polish. The dime shine is out like a light. So much so big barber shops have reduced rag flicking forces by more than half.

It's my way of looking literary.

AVENNO, France.—The goose that laid the golden egg has a rival to legendary fame with the discovery of the rooster here that lays his daily egg, rain or shine. This barnyard freak outlays his girl friends when it comes to producing bigger and whiter eggs. The versatile bird receives visitors daily who come to study and admire his accomplishment. Doctors and scientists, as yet, have been unable to explain the phenomenon.

What Others Say

BORAH SEN VA-T-EN GUERRE

When Senator Borah warned the French correspondents that the Versailles treaty would be revised either "by peace or by force" he was not so much declaring war on Europe as exercising the inalienable right of an American statesman to make the front page. The point seems worth remarking, though doubtless the astute gentleman of the Paris press sensed some such element in the situation. To Americans, astute and unastute, the tricks of Senator Borah, as distinguished from the operations of his excellent mind, are a too familiar story.

To list the times that Senator Borah has marched off to battle, trumpets sounding, banners flaunting, guns aiming, would fill a Congressional Record. He will threaten to fight anything from a first-class power to a fellow senator. But, alas, one listens in vain for the combat to begin like the "King of France," the senator marches up hill only to march down again.

He has to execute these swift maneuvers for a very simple reason. The senator has a yearn for the front page that surpasses every other motive, and, since trouble is the easiest path to news, trouble making has become his passion. He long since forgot that there was such a thing as consistency. Loyalty to a party—except on election day—means so many wasted opportunities for headlines. As for such little matters as courtesy to a French premier or an American president, or regard for the difficulties of international discussion—well, he has just demonstrated his contempt for them.

Senator Borah is an imposing spectacle—"formidable" is perhaps the French word. But we warn the visiting correspondents that his actions seldom live up to his words. They need not lie awake nights over the spectacle of an enraged Borah marching full panned to seize Marianne by the throat. By the time the call to arms could issue, Senator Borah would be galloping off in another direction to make an equally clear statement in aid of some other war. It is a tragedy that so much fine intelligence should be wasted—well, let us say nine-tenths wasted—in pursuit of the spotlight. But in Senator Borah's case Americans have learned to expect nothing better.—New York Herald Tribune, October 24.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Diet Should Contain Vitamin G. Pellagra has been known for nearly 200 years. It is only recently, however, that its real cause has become known. It is a disease which involves the skin, but, what is more important, it causes marked disturbances of the general health.

At one time it was believed to be due to an infection. Now it is known that infection plays no part in its production. The ordinary sanitary and hygienic measures which are commonly employed against the transmission of disease do not help to control pellagra. The United States Public Health Service has shown that this disease is founded on faulty diet.

Pellagra is caused by an inadequate supply of certain food elements, particularly those containing necessary vitamins. When these foods are lacking in the diet the trouble follows. It is because of this fact that this disease is classified with those spoken of as the "vitamin deficiency diseases."

Scurvy and rickets are similar diseases. Scurvy occurs if the food does not contain vitamin C. Rickets is produced where there is a lack of vitamin D. Any diet which does not supply a sufficient amount of vitamin G will cause pellagra.

Such foods as fresh, lean meats, lard, milk, canned salmon and commercial wheat germ have been found to be exceedingly rich in this protective vitamin. Eggs, canned haddock, dried beans, soy beans, dried milk and tomatoes have been found of value in guarding against this disease. But they must be consumed in considerable quantities in order to supply the necessary amounts of vitamin G.

Keep the Diet Variable

Corn products, wheat flour, rye flour, oatmeal, salt pork, the commercial lard substitutes, butter, carrots, turnips, onions, sweet potatoes and white rice are exceedingly poor in their content of this vitamin. It has been observed repeatedly that individuals whose diet consists essentially of those foods are likely to show signs of pellagra.

In most sections of this country the diet is a variable one and insures an adequate supply of the necessary elements. That is why pellagra is not so common here as it is abroad.

Bandit "Eyes"

Cross-eyed bandits were plentiful in Kansas City until police reached out and arrested Fenton W. Wright (above), with his double lens eye-glasses with false eyes to create a cross-eyed effect. The glasses are a modern version of the old-fashioned mask which stage coach bandits used to wear as a disguise. Fenton confessed to several robberies, with his extra "eyes," police say.

The Stars Say

Saturday, October 31

An interesting and eventful day, especially for those in employment or for others affiliated with mergers, combines or secret societies, is presaged by the ruling planetary operations. It is a time for seeking favors, honors or promotion from these in places of authority and for pushing clever plans or projects having the element of novelty or innovation. But handle all writings and documents with precaution and do not provoke legal processes. Be alert but cautious.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of advancement, promotion, honors or recognition from employers or those in place of power from the heads of mergers, close corporations or secret societies.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: A tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

panese. It seems improbable that Russia would risk fatal interference with her five-year plan for the pleasure of fighting Japan. But if war does come, Japan will find a Russia unlike that pushed over so easily in the days of the feeble czar and corrupt grand dukes.

GOLD CONTINUES TRAVELING from the United States to France.

The French request, and get gold in the United States gold coin. Frenchmen like to collect these, that they may have real money. France has two and a half billions in gold, more in proportion to wealth and population than any other nation in the world, but does not coin it or distribute any of it. She never before had so much and keeps it in solid lumps.

It may comfort you, watching gold going from here to Paris, to learn that it is coming to us from weaker countries, South America, China and even India, where Britain made a foolish, ineffectual effort to enforce the gold standard. India, inevitably will go back to silver.

MARKET IS UP; TRADING BETTER

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel Rise; Rails are Firm-er Again

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The stock market pushed upward in the early trading today, with activity a little brisker than yesterday.

Bethlehem rose 1 1/2 points, reflecting declaration of the common dividend, and U. S. Steel nearly as much. Rails firmed up again. Union Pacific shot up more than 3 points. Santa Fe nearly 2. New Haven and Baltimore and Ohio 1. Issues up a point or more included American Telephone, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Loews, National Dairy, Penney, and Electric Auto-lite.

The banking situation was eased considerably in the last week. Currency circulation declined $24,000,000 after having advanced for six successive weeks, thus giving evidence that the hoarders were recovering from their fears, and the amount of reserve bank credit in use was reduced by $27,000,000, reflecting the return of money to the banks and the smaller gold losses.

Heads of the two largest steel companies find sentiment has improved and reports some increase in activity. Wall Street thought Bethlehem's declaration of a dividend on the common was based on a belief in fourth quarter gains.

Net operating income of 81 railroads for September represented a drop of 55.7 per cent from a year ago, one of the sharpest losses of the depression.

Wives Create New Industry

So popular has "tin can" housekeeping become that this new industry has been created in Los Angeles, where thousands of empty cans are thrown away every month by wives who can't be bothered with preparing "old-fashioned" meals. The problem of what to do with the mountain of cans in the city dump has been solved with huge magnets which extract the metal containers from the other debris. The tin is then fed to presses and compressed into bales above. These will soon make more tin cans for more tinned food for more "tin" housewives

BRANDS CLAIMS AS DISTORTIONS

Will Expect Corrections And Apology from William H. Gardiner

"Of course I should welcome the congressional investigation that would bring out and publish all the pertinent facts," he added.

The severity and suddenness of the president's move recalled his almost similar action of two years ago. Then, without warning, he struck at William B. Shearer, who claimed he had helped wreck the unsuccessful Geneva Arms conference of 1927.

He called Shearer a "propagandist" who had "organized zealous support for increased armament" and criticized "all efforts of our government to secure international agreements for the reduction of naval armaments." Shearer came before the senate committee.

People As Referee

The president let it be known some weeks ago he would go directly to the American people, if necessary, to combat efforts to arouse public opinion in favor of increased naval expenditure.

He was represented then as indignant at supposed efforts of Navy department personnel to block budgetary decreases he was advocating. Since that time the Navy has submitted new 1933 budget estimates slicing approximately $61,000,000 from its previous $401,000,000 figures.

Throughout yesterday, officials said the president had "no complaint to make" upon Gardiner's statement. Then, after darkness had fallen, newspapermen were called suddenly back to the White House.

"It is desirable," Mr. Hoover's statement said, "for the public to know the character of this indirect campaign of misinformation to defeat the efforts of the high officials of the Navy department and the administration for reduction of federal expenditure not immediately essential in order that we may avoid increased taxation of the people in these times."

Does Not Specify

He did not, however, specify what part or parts of Gardiner's statement.

Hostess Tho' Rich

Although Mrs. Harry B. Jeffries (above), has been a millionaire's wife for more than a month, she still retains her position as hostess of a Philadelphia restaurant. However, the next payday will be the last for the former Mrs. Lilly L. Simmons, who claims that she will be sorry to leave the place where she has worked for six years and where she met her present husband, a 73-year-old retired manufacturer.

STOCKHOLM—Two Swedish princes spoke on the dedication ceremony of a new building at Skansen, famous outdoor museum here. They were Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf and his uncle, Prince Carl, a brother of King Gustaf.

Akron Dwarfs Los Angeles in Size

Like mother and little daughter do the Akron and Los Angeles look as they rest side by side in the Naval Air Station hangar at Lakehurst, N. J. Completing its night flight from Akron, where it was built, the largest dirigible in the world arrived at Lakehurst, N. J., to make its permanent home there. The latest addition to the Navy's "eyes" dwarfs the Los Angeles when they are placed side by side. The nose of the Akron compared to that of her sister ship is as a basketball to a golf ball.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeanette Young Norton

Thermometer Cooking
What bothers me most in cooking is the vagueness of directions about "temperature," said Dot. "Here's a fine recipe sent to me by a kind relative who makes the most delicious cakes I've ever eaten. And after giving precise instructions about the exact number of cups and spoonfuls of this and that, the recipe winds about with something like 'moderately hot' or 'slow oven.' What I ask you, is a slow oven? And my idea of moderately hot is apparently not the same as hers because my moderately hot baking cakes haven't been so hot."

The same complaint is often voiced by men with a suppressed yen for cooking, when they occasionally invade the kitchen with great ambitions for cooking something special. And the experienced cook tosses off some directions ending with indefinite temperature terms.

Use a Thermometer
One would think that the temperature didn't much matter, whereas actually it does matter a great deal. And those amateur cooks who play on the safe side and keep everything cooking at a moderate heat are just as likely to spoil dishes as the extremists. In the old days when every girl gradually picked up all there was to know of cooking in her mother's kitchen, some definite notions were acquired. But nowadays when so many girls jump from an office to a kitchen with absolutely no experience in cooking, the only safe standby is precise directions in scientific terms within her understanding.

Certainly the thermometer, while scientific, is simple enough. And modern recipes are more and more ending to state temperatures in thermometer terms. Cakes baked with an eye on the outside stove thermometer, meats roasted with a roasting thermometer plunged in their depths, candy cooked and frequently tested with a candy thermometer, will regularly and dependably produce the successful results that are otherwise a matter of chance.

If the temperature isn't stated in directions, this guide may be followed:
Very slow oven means between 250 to 300 degrees F.

Slow oven means 300 to 350 F. Moderate, about 350 degrees F. Moderately hot, between 375 and 400 degrees F. Hot, between 400 and 450 deg. F. Very hot, around 500 degrees F. Quick, short searing in the oven takes a maximum temperature, between 450 and 500.

If the favorite recipe does not specify exact temperature, then it's up to the cook to record the results of her own experiments. Watch the thermometer when cooking; write down on the recipe the exact temperature which has brought the best results.

LORAIN, O.—Isaac Walton left this one to Rudy Moc, photographer. Moc reported that, while casting for bass in Lake Erie, his hook settled in the back of a 75-pound sturgeon. He kept the fish at the top of the water long enough to get hold of a small rifle and shoot the sturgeon.

QUINCY, Mass.—Sam Venut, 29, was fined $10 in court for permitting passengers to interfere with the proper operation of an automobile. It was testified that at the time of his arrest 19 persons were riding in his sedan.

Mourn Sino-Jap War Victims

Lone Survivor

A scene at the shrine of Kudan in Tokyo, Japan, showing relatives of the late Captain Nakamura and Sergeant Major Isugi, Japanese officers who were slain at the outbreak of war in Manchuria, praying for the departed "heroes" during a memorial service. The death and burial of these two officers is said to have aroused Japan to a frenzy and caused additional warfare against the Chinese.

Charles F. Burgman (above), 78, of Dayton, Ohio, is the only surviving member of the group of five men who formed the American Federation of Labor on Nov. 15, 1881. The quintet met at Pittsburgh, Pa., for the memorial conference which ended with the formation of the A. F. of L. This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the group.

Science finds new reasons for Kellogg's All-Bran

MILLIONS have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe way to overcome common constipation. Now science shows this delicious cereal brings three benefits to the diet: "Bulk," Vitamin B, Iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce—only it is concentrated in a more convenient form to relieve constipation. It absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Vitamin B tones the intestines, and promotes regular habits. Iron builds blood, and aids health generally.

No wonder ALL-BRAN is considered far more natural than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Try two tablespoonfuls daily. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal or use in cooking. Recipes on the red and green packages. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Dear tax-payers and other voters:

John B. Sanor and A. A. Streng, candidates for County Board of Education in Columbiana County, are opposed to the following acts of the present County Board: Extravagant use of money, frequent change in text-books, closing of rural-schools and high-schools and forcing centralization without the consent of the people, employing teachers from outside the county while we have good teachers in the county. They are in favor of local boards selecting their own teachers, and of centralization and township high-schools when petitioned for by sixty percent of the tax-payers. Vote for them Nov. 3.

"Wise-Crackin', Will?"

Broadway "Hit"

When Secretary of War Patrick Hurley landed in his plane at Los Angeles none other than the Beverly Hills wit, Will Rogers, was on hand to greet him with a warm handclasp and probably a typical wise-crack or two. In fact, the former cowboy's face gives unmistakable signs of some classic Rogerism, while Secretary Hurley seems to be enjoying whatever his fellow Oklahoman is offering.

Pretty Jane Hinton Gates (above), despite her mere 22 years, has shown herself sufficiently versed in the technique of drama to have in the technique of the French play "Le Sexe Faible" produced on Broadway with a great fanfare and before an audience of celebrities. She is said to be the youngest girl ever to have her work recognized in the New York theatre world.

"Barney Google" Sails

Is It a Miracle?

Billie De Beck, creator of the widely syndicated cartoon, "Barney Google," is shown with his wife as they sailed from New York on the S.S. Majestic for a three months' tour of Europe. In his search for material they will visit France, Switzerland and the Riviera.

If this were an age of miracles, one might believe that this kindly faced Korean resident of Honolulu, Michael Kim, found his waning eyesight restored as an expression of divine approval during his laborious copying of the Bible by hand, after he had translated it into his native tongue. Kim, a devout Catholic, accomplished his monumental task in 18 months.

High Quality Buying

Betty, the erstwhile economical one, has gone on a spree of high quality buying. Hitherto she had pursued a policy of always choosing the least expensive quality that could suit her purpose, and she regarded as foolishly extravagant those shoppers who said: "Give me the best," quite automatically.

"There can't be 30 or 40 per cent difference in quality between these things that are 30 or 40 per cent higher in price," was her theory. Tradesmen rather laid it on—the big difference in price was more to include people into the idea that there was more to delude people into the idea that there was a vast difference in quality which actually did not exist.

Now, however, Betty, like many another careful shopper, has had a change of view. Prices this last year have come down to a point where high quality products are within reach of average incomes. Best quality can be purchased this year for the price of the second-rate last year. And gradually a large number of women shoppers are acquiring a taste for the best—a taste that is likely to endure. With permanent benefits in the long run.

Raising the Standard

For, as has often been pointed out by fastidious shoppers, if everyone demanded the best, presently only the best would be produced. If only the best butter were accepted, second grades would not even be offered. Once get accustomed to pure silk or linen or wool, to a well-tailored suit, to fabrics that hang well and survive normal wear and tear, and the inferior products are undesirable at any price.

It's the woman who buys who now has an opportunity to raise the general standard of quality in all the products consumed in the home. Her dollar now buys high quality as well as liberal quantity, and if she continues to cast her preferences for the highest quality, presently there will be no excuse for the production of second-rate articles. And higher standard of production means better conditions for all concerned.

Which may sound a bit Utopian, except that just this has already occurred in many lines. Years ago there were so many kinds of eggs that the consumer gambled every time she bought a dozen, even when she paid a fair price for them. But along comes a bit of legislation whereby eggs receive careful classification, and the consumer is made sharply aware of the difference in quality. Not so much difference in price. She tries the best, gets accustomed to it, and now if out of a dozen eggs one is less than perfect, it's a rarity, not a commonplace as before.

Moreover, shopping is simplified when quality is generally good. The manufacturers and producers know their stuff because they concentrate. But it is absurd to expect the average woman—or anyone, for that matter—to be expert in all the thousand and one articles that she has to buy for the home. To know at a glance what makes for high quality in textiles and food and woods and metals and more or less complicated machinery such as is used in modern homes—all this is the result of highly specialized study. Manufacturers can give such exclusive attention to individual items. And it ought to be possible for anyone to buy blindfolded, confident that only good quality is available—that no merchant will take money for anything less than the best! In fact, that poor stuff just isn't being made, and if it happens to grow, it's discarded before it reaches the market.

Not altogether a fantastic dream, once we all get the habit of buying, nothing but the best!

BUENOS AIRES—An elaborate system of forged documents, faked balances and untrue weighing machines has been brought to light according to a statement by the Customs Investigatory Committee today. The total of the frauds discovered to date is over $700,000 Argentine paper pesos.

On the Trail of Fame

Not to be ignored or cheated from participating in any pictures of or conferences between notables, the small black dog whose master is no less an official than Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, is shown on the trail of his owner and the distinguished guest of the family, Premier Laval of France. This exclusive snapshot shows Secretary Stimson and Mrs. Stimson escorting their foreign visitor about "Woody," the Stimson's estate near Washington. At least this dog had his day.

DIGNE (Basses Alpes) — The lavender bush from which our great-grandmothers plucked flowers to dry and put between the sheets and pillow cases, is suffering from the world economic depression. A congress of lavender growers was held here to discuss what the cause of the depreciated value of the scented flower, and the following resolutions were passed: that declaration of the crop be rendered obligatory, that lavender be included in the agricultural co-operation plan, and that the co-operative of Senez be authorized to

"Salem's Greatest Store for Men and Boys"

TO THE VOTERS OF SALEM: —

At this time I wish to clear the misunderstanding which seems to exist in regard to the legality of my candidacy for Auditor. Before announcing myself a candidate for that office, I took the matter up with the members of the Board of Elections, and they informed me that it would be legal to have my name written on the ballot.

In order to vote for me, it will be necessary to write the name of Helen Woerther on the ballot in the space "For Auditor" and mark it with the usual "X". The name can be written in either the Democrat or Republican space.

During my past administration as City Auditor, I have been able to save the taxpayers thousands of dollars on various bond issues. On the Disposal Plant Bond Issue alone I was able to save $9,500.00.

I am always ready to serve the taxpayers by giving out any information that is available in the Auditor's Office. My records are always open for public inspection.

If re-elected, I will continue to conduct my office in the courteous and efficient way.

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence at the Election, Tuesday, November 3rd.

Close Battle Expected Between Salem And Wellsville Tonight

THE DAY IN SPORTS

OLD TIMERS WILL MEET
PLAYED FOOTBALL IN 1890

The curtain of years will be rolled back at Ohio State university next Saturday and across the sea, brown turf of time will come a football team of yesterday.

Heroes of 1890, the year Ohio sponsored its first football eleven, will gather on the campus. From the four corners of the United States they will come to renew old friendships, to see old sights and most of all to see a Scarlet and Gray clad football team play the Navy and to compare present day play with that of 41 years ago.

Added to this group of gridiron pioneers will be five younger stars who brought honor and glory to the Buckeye school by their exploits and were named on all-American teams. Their names bring back pleasant memories—Chick Harley, Pete Stinchcomb, Ed Hess, Leo Raskowski and last of all Wesley Fessler.

All will be honored at this homecoming celebration. A row of trees will be planted in the road leading to the stadium, 11 trees representing each member of the first varsity eleven and five trees for the five all-Americans. Each tree will be marked with a plaque, giving the name of the football player.

Members of the 1890 squad who are expected to attend are Paul Lincoln, captain, now a professor at Cornell; Charles Morry, instructor at Ohio State; G. O. Schaeffer of Columbus; Richard T. Ellis, regular army officer; Horace Whitacre, a doctor at Tacoma, Wash.; H. H. Richardson, Cleveland; W. S. Scott, a doctor at Chillicothe; C. W. Fulk of the Ohio State department of chemistry; W. A. Lancaster, a druggist at Chula Vista, Cal.; Frank Rans, Woban, Mass.; H. E. Rutan, Xenia; H. S. Johnson, Troy; D. A. Hagler of Washington Court-house and E. D. Martin of Columbus.

The five younger stars who will be honored are still more or less connected with the game that brought them honor. Hess is on the coaching staff at Virginia Military Institute, Fessler at Ohio State, Harley is at Chicago, Raskowski at Cleveland and Stinchcomb at Columbus, all playing a little professional ball now and then.

The program is being planned by the Scarlet Key, campus managers' association. Dignitaries of the university will take part in paying homage to the football heroes of the past.

PICKING THE WINNERS is becoming a more difficult problem week by week with unnumberable dope upsets adding great interest to the current campaign and making selections as difficult as ever before in football history. In the past three weeks the dope hasn't run so well. A 74 per cent average, with 72 winners in 97 games has resulted.

Tonight's game between Salem and Wellsville is another tough one but for no reason at all the Quakers are the favored eleven. Warren will trounce Leetonia with no great difficulty and Campbell Memorial will easily defeat East Palestine. Take your pick and run in the game between Canton and East Liverpool; either team is liable to win.

Saturday's college games should bring the following results:

Ohio U. to beat Wesleyan; Penn-Lafayette, Notre Dame-Tech; Yale over Dartmouth, Harvard-Virginia; Michigan-Princeton, Columbia-Cornell, New York U-Oregon, Holy Cross-Brown, Georgetown - Boston college, Bucknell-Villanova, Ohio State-Indiana, Northwestern - Illinois.

Kentucky - Alabama, Minnesota-Wisconsin, Georgia-Florida, Nebraska-Missouri, John Carroll-Mt. Union, Wooster - Case, Southern Methodist - Texas, Baylor - Texas Tech, Colgate-Mississippi, Tennessee-Duke, Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech, Stanford-California, Tulane - Mississippi Aggies.

Stonemen to Present Strongest Lineup in Crucial County Game

Salem High's campaign for a sixth consecutive Columbiana county football championship reaches its climax under the calcium glare of the Reilly athletic stadium floodlights tonight as the school's powerful gridiron combination attacks a formidable Wellsville High aggregation in what looms as one of the season's outstanding grid classics.

A throng of 5,000 spectators is expected to witness the teams in action with a close, hard fought battle anticipated. The game will start immediately after the mardi gras parade of mummies which is scheduled to march through the city's business district at 7 p. m.

An invading throng of 1,500 Wellsville followers will accompany the Tigers to Salem.

Salem Players Optimistic
A week of intensive training during which Coach Floyd W. Stone took all precautions possible to avoid injuries to his regulars was brought to a close Thursday with a snappy signal drill. Optimism prevailed among Red and Black fadoms in the face of injuries suffered by several varsity performers and the fact that the Wellsville team, for the first time in years, is conceded a slight advantage over the Quakers' gladiators.

The strongest available array of talent will be sent into the fray by Stone who admits great respect for the power of the visiting lads who may be somewhat handicapped by the absence of a star halfback, "Sleepy" Fulton, ineligible because of scholastic difficulties. It should be a great struggle between two stronger than average teams.

BUCKEYE SQUAD OFF TO INDIANA

Williaman Able to Present Strongest Lineup in Game Saturday

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Prepared for another hard gridiron battle, their fourth in succession, Ohio State university's football warriors embarked this morning for the Hoosier state where they will cross pints Saturday with Indiana, at Bloomington.

With all members in fairly good condition, Coach Sam Willaman will be able to present his strongest array of talent against the opponent. Thirty-five members of the varsity squad made the trip.

Williaman did not announce his starting lineup before departing but it is believed he plans to use two complete backfields, one composed of Cramer, Hinchman, Holcomb and Vachinich and the other made up of Oliphant, Carroll, Keefe and Welever. Conrad probably will start at end in place of Nasman. The remainder of the forward wall will remain unchanged.

Tech Ready For Irish
PITTSBURGH, PA.—With morale still high although two hard-fought games with Purdue and W. & J. have been lost this season, Carnegie Tech's young football squad is nearing the completion of its preparations for the Notre Dame game at the local Stadium next Saturday.

Despite the fact that most of the regulars were bumped and bruised considerably in their gruelling 13 to 6 game with Purdue last Saturday, not a man has missed a practice session this week, and although Carnegie's total varsity strength is represented by only 30 men, every one of them will be available for service against the Irish.

A King and His Court

Surrounded by as charming and appreciative a court as any monarch ever could command, the "King of Swat" is shown autographing baseballs for a bevy of kiddies at the Los Angeles Children's Clinic. TORONTO ELEVEN DEFEATS CHESTER
Victors Amass 50-0 Win In Night Game; Flash Powerful Offense

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—Unleashing a powerful and spectacular offensive against a scrappy eleven from Chester High school, a big and Rangy Toronto high football team galloped off with a 50-0 victory last night. The game was played in the Toronto stadium before a crowd of 1800.

Despite the one-sided score, it was an interesting ball game to watch with Chester fighting every minute of the game. Fans saw every kind of offensive and defensive football played by both teams, with the aerial game coming in for its share of use.

Fumbles Eliminated
WORCESTER, MASS.—Capt. John J. McEwan, Holy Cross coach, has devised an almost sure way of avoiding fumbles when his players have to use a wet ball. In a rainy day drill yesterday, he had the balls encased with soap and when they got through with that the players thought an ordinary wet ball was easy to handle.

The Big Ten league's toughest eleven, Barborton, the team that is furnishing surprises galore this year, is destined to annex another easy verdict tomorrow afternoon in its game with Cuyahoga Falls. "Buck" Burke's Mahoning county champs play Sebring at Boardman and Lowellville plays at Hubbard.

College grid fans in Salem will miss an unusual attraction when John Carroll struggle at Alliance tonight. Lowell E. "Little Rib" Allen, of Salem, the nation's leading schoolboy pole vaulter three years ago may start at a halfback for the Mountmen who are scheduled for a setback.

TONY CANZONERI WINS TITLE MIX

Chunky Italian Champion Easily Defeats Willie Griffin of Newark in 10-Rounder

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 30.—Tony Canzoneri's title "defense" against Phillie Griffin, of Newark proved just a light workout for the chunky little New York Italian.

Canzoneri, who holds two world's championships, risked the lesser of them, the junior welterweight crown, last night but had no trouble at all keeping it in his possession, winning the decision by a wide margin after ten easy rounds.

For the first five rounds, when Griffin appeared disturbed by the thought of being in the same ring with a champion, Tony hardly exerted himself at all. Then when the Newark boy began to fight, Canzoneri fought back, had Phillie up against the ropes a couple of times and put on one flurry that looked as if he might knock out his rival before he eased up again for the finish.

Gridders to See Football Picture At State Sunday

Members of the Salem High school football squad and the Sheen Bulldogs will be guests of the State theater at the premiere showing of "Spirit of Notre Dame" at the State theater Sunday.

The picture, scheduled for a three-day appearance here, features Lew Ayres and the Ramblers' famous "four horsemen", Harry Stuhldreher, Elmer Layden, Jim Crowley and Don Miller and shows Frank Carideo, John Law, Adam Walsh, John O'Brien, "Bucky" O'Connor and other noted Notre Dame stars.

It is dedicated to football's greatest figure, Knute K. Rockne, Irish coach who was killed in a plane crash last summer.

GOPHERS DENY BRIBE RUMORS

Minnesota Players Asked To "Throw" Game with Wisconsin, Report

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—University of Minnesota authorities today were inclined to minimize reports contained in letters that three Gopher football players had been offered money to "throw" Saturday's game with Wisconsin.

"The attempt is absurd," said Dean J. C. Lawrence, assistant to the president, Coach H. O. Crisler doubted that the letters had been written in a serious vein.

The opinions were expressed after investigation of receipt of three letters, postmarked Madison, Wis., by Captain Clarence Munn, Jack Mandes and Kenneth MacDougall, of the varsity eleven. The writer, signing himself "W. Burzik," said he would pay $1,500 if they would "do their best to throw the game away to the Badgers."

Another rumor was that a student had been telephoning Minnesota players to Wisconsin.

"There is nothing to it as far as I can learn," said Crisler.

BIG TEN GRIDDERS BOOKED FOR THREE IMPORTANT GAMES

Indiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin Reach Climax Of Titular Race

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Three more Big Ten football teams, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana, will reach the crossroads of the championship season tomorrow.

Trio Undefeated
The trio, with Northwestern, has not been defeated in Big Ten competition, although Indiana has a scoreless tie with Iowa on its books, and if they run according to predictions, there will be only two teams left in the select circle after tomorrow's chores have been done. Minnesota and Wisconsin meet at Minneapolis in the top game of the conference schedule and appear so evenly matched predictions on the outcome are few and conservative. Both have good backfields, but the Wisconsin line, playing as it did against Purdue, may be the margin of difference.

Indiana must meet Ohio State and the Buckeyes will enter the battle with a big edge. Indiana developed Chicago's weak outfit, 32 to 6 last week, but was unable to score on Iowa the week before. Ohio had power enough to hold Northwestern's powerful Wildcats to 10 points last Saturday and figure to win.

Wildcats Play Illinois
Northwestern will be after its third straight victory over Illinois at Evanston, and probably will get it without much trouble. The Wildcats will be in even better physical condition than they were last week against Ohio, while Illinois have shown little improvement. The Illini, who have lacked speed, especially in the line are wishing for a wet day, figuring rain will be more of a handicap to the Wildcats than to themselves.

Purdue is primed for a big scoring effort against Chicago, aiming at 40 or more points. The Maroons, biggest hope is to score on the boiler-makers and maintain their record of counting against all big ten opponents this season to date. Chicago lost to Michigan, but got a touchdown, and managed to do the same against Indiana.

Iowa Meets Washington
Iowa has a forward passing offense ready for the invasion by George Washington university of Washington, D. C. and the Hawkeyes who have not scored a point this season, are confident of victory.

Michigan and Notre Dame the midwest's representative in the east this week are favored over Princeton and Carnegie Tech respectively. The Irish are planning on taking the skibos in stride with Pennsylvania to be met next week at South Bend.

Stars to Shine in Hallowe'en Grid Classics

KEN MEENAN • ARMENTROUT • B. J. VIVIANO

If one were the possessor of a magic carpet, providing the means of instantaneous transition from one spot in these United States to another, what a day of football one would be privileged to enjoy on October 31! Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech., at South Bend, Ind., is easily the pick of the scheduled games. At their last meeting the Irish trounced Carnegie 26-6, but then they had the one and only "Rock." This year, however, Tom Yarr has proved himself a captain worthy of the name, and a lively duel is anticipated between Yarr and Captain Murray ArmentROUT of the Techmen. Next in attractiveness is the Illinois-Northwestern game at Evanston, Ill. Last year Northwestern ran up a 32-0 score against Illinois, and this season, with Ken Meenan as a threat, they hope to repeat. Robert Horsley, Illinois 150-pound sensation, is expected to be in the line-up. The big game in the East will be at New York between Oregon and N. Y. U., when Bob McNamara, of the latter, will strut his stuff. Great things are expected of Bob. Columbia and Cornell at Ithaca ought also to prove a game thronged with action. In their last meeting Cornell won a 10-7 victory, but this year Columbia looks to Ralph Hewitt to prevent another defeat. His chief barrier will be B. J. Viviano, of Cornell, called the best halfback since the days of Kew and Pflanz.

THEATER Attractions

"SOB SISTER," drama of an ambitious girl, who was too busy trading on the romances of others to recognize her own love affair until it had practically passed her by, which opens its local engagement today at the State theater, is hailed as being one of the year's most important pictures, and for several reasons.

First, it marks the second screen appearance of James Dunn, who bounded into the film spotlight overnight in his history making screen debut in "Bad Girl."

Second, it introduces to moviegoers a new leading lady, 21 years old, gorgeously blonde, a favorite of the Broadway stage, Linda Watkins.

Kathia Gombell who played Edna, the girl friend in "Bad Girl," Molly O'Day and Howard Phillips are prominent in the cast.

"THE RANGE FEUD" is the Grand's feature today.

Tense scenes make this story of the sheriff who doesn't let friendship interfere with his duty. Exciting moments galore as charging riders guide their horses through the rugged country to take from jail an innocent youth convicted of murder. . . and the wild ride of the wounded sheriff as he races after them to save the boy from lynching at the hands of the mob!

Buck Jones creates a dramatic characterization which marks him as more than just a screen daredevil. He is capably supported by John Wayne, Susan Fleming and Wallace MacDonald.

SYNOPSIS
Leaving Hawaii shortly after her father's death, young and beautiful Fanchon Meredith goes to San Francisco, where she meets and loves a handsome man named Tony. Fanchon is shocked to learn that Tony is a racketeer, implicated in a recent murder. She, too, is now wanted. Fanchon escapes in an airplane under the name of "Smith." Evelyn Howard, whom she had met on the boat coming from Hawaii, is aboard. Evelyn is en route to New York to live with her aunt, the wealthy Mrs. Carstairs, whom she has never met. After Fanchon confides in Evelyn, the latter treats her coolly. The plane crashes and Fanchon is the only survivor. She decides to escape Tony and the past and start life anew by masquerading as Evelyn. She requests a doctor to wire Mrs. Carstairs that "Evelyn" is safe. A wire comes from Mrs. Carstairs saying that Collin cannot meet Fanchon. Fanchon learns Collin is Mrs. Carstairs' only son.

CHAPTER VIII

Evelyn hadn't spoken of Collin. Why? wondered Fanchon. Had she a picture of herself? they wanted to know. She had not. But a camera man was there. Fanchon raised her hands protestingly. No pictures, she begged. She hadn't thought of that. Tony might see the picture.... Tony might recognize her.... The picture was, however taken. She thought courageously that, after all, some hope was left. Newspaper pictures were notoriously unrecognizable; the borrowed hat had shadowed her face; and her face itself was pale and almost gaunt with the shock of what she had been through. He might not see it; or, seeing, recognize her.

They asked her about "Miss Smith." To all their questions she replied—as there was now no one left of all the party to bear witness against her—that she had never seen the other girl until they boarded the plane together. That she understood she had made her home in San Francisco and was leaving it to take up work—library work, Fanchon thought—in New York. And that she had heard "Miss Smith" say that she had no living relatives. No, she did not know her given name; had never heard it.

One reporter mentioned carelessly, that the girl had died.... an hour or so before they had boarded Fanchon's train.

Fanchon's eyes filled with nervous tears. Dead. Evelyn Howard constituted no danger for her. Living, she would have been a perpetual menace. Dead, Fanchon could remember that she had been young, that she had loved life, that she had looked forward with eagerness to what life was to hold for her. Dead, Fanchon could forget that in Fanchon's own trouble Evelyn Howard had been cold, unkind and condemnatory. Dead, Fanchon could forget that Evelyn had refused to help her—and had branded her—a girl that one "didn't know," whom one couldn't "afford" to know.

Dead, Evelyn Howard was free; and her death made Fanchon free. The reporters left, apologizing, pleasant, hurrying back with their news. "Sole Survivor's Story of Plane Crash Which Killed Seven," they would tick out on their keys. It would presently be flashed over the wires of the Associated Press.

The train moved on. Fanchon leaned her head against the dusty plush cushions and closed her eyes. She couldn't go back now. She had irrevocably committed herself. There was nothing to do but to permit herself to be carried on—and on.... and eventually to step off the train into whatever destiny awaited her. She found herself speculating upon Mrs. Carstairs' son, Collin. Upon the reason why Evelyn had not mentioned him to her. It would have been more natural had Evelyn mentioned him, more in keeping with Evelyn's character. Evelyn had been more than a little caste conscious when it came to Jennie Carstairs; she had been more than a little proud, more than a little anxious to impress upon Fanchon the glories and bruited wonders of Mrs. Carstairs' social position and money of the woman herself she had little to say, which was also natural, as she had never known her. But he had not spoken of the son at all. This seemed extraordinarily strange to Fanchon, thinking it over as it would have been the most comprehensible thing in the world for Evelyn to have mentioned this "eligible" cousin, this big game hunter, this polo player.

Why, then, had she been silent? The train pulled in at the station. Stood, panting and throbbing. Fanchon gathered her few borrowed belongings together and moved with the passengers toward the platform. Some of them looked at her curiously. All looked at her, whether curiously or kindly. One woman spoke to her, saying something breathless and hurried about.... dreadful accident — fortunate escape.... great interest.... People drew aside to let her pass, whispered among themselves. Everyone knew, then. There might be more reporters waiting. The old sense of being hunted, the cold panic seized her again. She was conscious of a hysterical desire to laugh.... shrilly.... If the reporters, eager, intent and courteous, back there at that big station, sitting there in the drawing room, had known, as they questioned her, that it was not alone the "sole survivor" who answered them, who replied wearily and reluctantly but with a like courtesy, that it was not Evelyn Howard at all but the Mystery Woman, the Gangster's Girl, who had occupied the press for some days past, what would they have said? How looked? What done? For the press had been as unhappy as the police at not finding Tony's "brood." They had not even learned her name. For Tony, although Fanchon had not realized it at the time, had been rather careful where he was seen with her. He had not been "seen" with her at all.... until that one last fatal night.

And then it had been Rosie who had upset the apple-cart. But Rosie had not known Fanchon's name, either. Yes, the press would have been very happy to have found her, as happy, almost, as the police, for the press would have made a front page human interest story out of it which would have echoed from coast to coast.

But they had questioned her as the "sole survivor" and as Mrs. Carstairs' niece, and had gone away, ignorant and perfectly satisfied in their ignorance.

Now she was walking up the stairs. Now she was approaching the barriers. She bit back the desire for reckless hysterical laughter.

Tears were in her eyes. Tears of fatigue; tears of terror; of shaking nervousness.

A woman stepped forward from the crowd at the barrier and took her into her arms.

"Evelyn—my dear!" —said the woman.

Her voice was very deep—very low. She was, Fanchon realized instantly, in a moment of stunned amazement, the most beautiful woman she had ever seen. She carried more than sixty years like a banner. She was tall and slender. She had great blue eyes and a clear, pale and a sweet curved mouth. Under her small hat her hair was silver white. She had lovely hands. And there were tears on her cheeks to match Fanchon's own tears. For a brief moment Mrs. Carstairs held Fanchon away at arms length. Then she exclaimed, puzzled, incredulous....

"But you're not Evelyn, are you....? not really Evelyn Howard. You can't be!"

Faith in the Future Prosperity of Ohio

In the early part of 1928 Peoples Service Drug Stores purchased the existing chain of 21 Day Drug Stores in Akron. At that time we had faith in the future possibilities of progress and prosperity for the state of Ohio. As a further and additional demonstration of faith in this great state we have since opened 8 new stores, in Akron, Cambridge, East Liverpool, Lorain, Salem, Steubenville and Youngstown. We have recently opened another store in Akron, one of the most modern and beautifully appointed stores in the state.

The employees and executives of Peoples Service Drug Stores (formerly Day Drug Stores) have the utmost faith in the State of Ohio and stand ever ready to contribute their time, energy and financial aid in the promotion of any worthy cause to insure its greater progress and prosperity.

Thousands of Dollars Expended Annually For Ohio Merchandise

RUBBER Goods, Electrical Appliances, Fountain Supplies, Medicines and Toilet Goods in addition to Cash Registers, Store Fixtures and equipment are among the hundreds of articles manufactured in the State of Ohio which are purchased by our organization.

Our purchases in 1930 were in excess of $1,200,000.00 for Ohio manufactured merchandise. We point this out merely to show that Peoples Service Drug Stores (formerly Day Drug Stores) not only save Ohioans hundreds of thousands of dollars annually on needed drug store merchandise but in addition we contribute materially to the happiness and livelihood of thousands of Ohioans who are employed by the companies with whom we do business. Commodities made in Ohio are distributed and sold in all of our 123 stores in more than 46 cities.

Explanation of Change of Name . . .

DAY Drug Stores of Ohio have changed their name to PEOPLES SERVICE DRUG STORES. But remember, we continue under the same management and you are assured of the same low money-saving prices and prompt efficient service you have been accustomed to in the past.

Merely a change in name to facilitate the operation of our stores. PEOPLES SERVICE DRUG STORES form a part of a nationally known organization operating 123 stores in 46 cities. Patrons of PEOPLES SERVICE DRUG STORES share directly in the savings made possible by greater buying power and mass distribution. You save at PEOPLES every day.

HAVING YIELDED to the persuasion of many friends to enter the election next Tuesday for Justice of Peace of Perry Township, A. T. Hutson will appreciate any support and influence that may be given him. His record of almost twenty years in the service of Uncle Sam and ten years in mercantile pursuits in which capacity he has come in contact with people in every walk of life, would certainly qualify him for this responsible public office. "Justice tempered with mercy."

To "Point-Up" Appetite
Just Stimulate Bowels

Whenever the end of the day finds you out-of-sorts; food does not tempt you and won't digest; breath is bad; tongue coated; just chew a candy tablet before bedtime. Tomorrow you'll be a new person!

A candy Cascaret clears up a bilious, gassy, headachy condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion. Activates bowels. Cascarets are made from cascara, which authorities say actually strengthens bowel muscles. So take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. All drug stores sell Cascarets for a dime, and no dollar preparation could do better work.

PARIS.—A new curative phonograph has been demonstrated by Dr. Pierre Vachet, psychologist, before the Salle de l'Ecole de Psychologie. According to accepted psychological theory, the individual is made up of two antagonistic elements—intelligence and feeling.
 Suggestion is now used by psychologists, as in the case of Coueism, to break down intelligence, or the critical aspect, by the continued use of the proper words. This leaves only a state of feeling which is responsive to curative suggestion. By means of a phonograph disc, Dr.
 Vachet brings about a complete relaxation and also induces muscular calm.

PARIS.—Four thousand White Russian taxi drivers in Paris are being taught how to repair and drive automobiles in a school just opened here for technical instruction at the Russian Young Mens Christian Association headquarters on the Left Bank. Courses in mechanical, electrical and civil engineering are given at night.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue;
 foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr.
 Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.
 Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make
